

Gellerisms on Commas

Choose an answer with a comma
only if:

- there is an independent clause followed by one of the “fanboys” – for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so – and then another independent clause.
- there is a “removable” or “moveable” phrase.
- there is a subordinate clause followed by an independent clause.
- there are three or more items in a series.
- there are adjectives of equal rank modifying the same noun.

THAT'S ALMOST IT –
DO NOT BE COMMA HAPPY!!!!!!!!!!!!
